

Are you passionate about gastronomy? Are you interested in a unique opportunity to develop yourself?

INTERNSHIP FOOD SERVICE DEVELOPMENT

2-3 days per week, minimum of 3 months, start April 1st.

The hospitality industry is a fast growing and dynamic industry, an industry where new trends arise continuously. To thrive in this industry, great customer service, expertise and a strong food-concept are essential.

Not For Sale is looking for that one person who is as dedicated to great food & service as we are! You will learn about the development, marketing and economics of culinary-concepts, all while operating in a successful company. You will work closely with our Head Chef on a wide variety of food service related activities and projects. The activities and projects are on a strategic, tactical and/or operational level.

Who are you?

- You are a true foodie
- You are passionate about the hospitality industry
- You are interested in marketing
- You have experience with social media
- You speak both English and Dutch
- You are looking to professionally develop yourself

Tasks and Responsibilities

- Supporting the Head Chef
- Development of recipes
- Calculate cost structures for recipes
- Roll out and maintain food costing software
- Responsible for social media marketing
- Support the development of the food catering branch
- Support the development of the mise en place kitchen

Who are we?

We are Not For Sale Netherlands/Dignità Amsterdam and currently have two brunch rooms and a mise en place/trainings-kitchen in the heart of Amsterdam. We work with great passion & commitment and strive to make each visit to our restaurants exceptional and extraordinary by working with team members who are self-motivated to create something special and have excellent customer focus.

Not For Sale is a social enterprise and part of a global campaign that offers victims of human trafficking a new perspective on their future.

Are you interested in the above position and up for a new challenge? Please send your CV and motivation to info@eatwelldogood.nl and we will be in touch!